

Family-Based Justice Center

The Launch of the Family-Based Justice Center Website

We have launched our website!

Since the inception of the Family-Based Justice Center, a training and technical-assistance (TTA) center funded by the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention (OJJDP), we have been gathering resources on the impacts of parental incarceration, creating a national interactive map of legislation and programs, and developing a program-planning and implementation guide, to help local, state, and tribal governments create or expand family-based alternative-sentencing programs.

Please pass our website information on to your networks and make sure to sign up for our newsletter.

Also, give us a follow on our new Twitter page @FBJCenter.

If you would like further information on family-based alternative programs, please fill out our TTA-request form on the website and one of our team members will assist you.

Meet the Team

From left to right: Kathy Mitchell (OJJDP Federal Grant Manager), Angela

In the news

Prison Policy Initiative

A briefing from the Prison Policy Initiative outlines some important issues affecting incarcerated parents and their children.

Read More

See Us, Support Us

October is See Us, Support Us (SUSU) month, raising awareness about and increasing support for children of incarcerated parents. SUSU is a year-round effort with national partners, culminating in a month of action in October. Sign up for SUSU Network emails to receive quarterly updates about how you can SEE and SUPPORT children year-round.

Read More

OJJDP Updates:

President Biden proclaimed October as National Youth Justice Action Month, dedicated to preventing youth from entering the juvenile justice system, addressing racial inequity in the system, and encouraging communities to participate in programs that support youth.

Read More

We look forward to building out our website and expanding our community. If you have ideas for additional content and resources, please feel free to contact us through the website.

Please feel free to share this information with interested colleagues.
Was this email forwarded to you? Sign up yourself at <https://bit.ly/FBJCnews>.

Brooklyn, NY 11201

NYU

Marron Institute of Urban Management

This email was sent to {{ contact.EMAIL }} You received this email because you are registered with Family-Based Justice Center

Unsubscribe here

This newsletter is funded in whole or in part through a grant from the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention, Office of Justice Programs, U.S. Department of Justice. Neither the U.S. Department of Justice nor any of its components operate, control, are responsible for, or necessarily endorse, this information (including, without limitation, its content, policies, and any services or tools provided).

© 2022 Family-Based Justice Center